On October 11, 2024, Mitchell W. Pollard, an associate at Masuda Funai, presented on Agricultural Properties during the National Business Institute (NBI) program, “Real Estate Transaction Oddities and Challenges: From Farms to Green Buildings.”

The program, hosted by NBI, a leading CLE provider, explored unique real estate challenges. Mitchell’s presentation highlighted key considerations when purchasing agricultural property, showcasing his expertise in this specialized area.

The session covered key topics including:

- Site Selection and Utility Development
- Challenges with Zoning, Land Use Regulations, and Statutes Governing Agricultural Land Transformation
- Environmental Issues
- Renewable Energy Leases
- Owner’s and Leasehold Policy Endorsements

Masuda Funai is proud to have Mitchell share his insights, reflecting the firm’s dedication to excellence in real estate law.
